
False promise

I keep reading that Democrat county commissioner candidate Diane Marseglia won't hire her friends and political cronies if the Democrats take control of the county board of commissioners.

What a joke. As a Middletown supervisor, she made the motion to hire Democrat Party boss John Cordisco and his law firm as both labor attorney and conflict solicitor. Not only did we hire him, but he went from the regular rate at the time of $105 an hour for work he was doing before he was officially hired to the then labor attorney rate of $225 an hour.

I hope no one falls for Diane Marseglia's election year hypocrisy. Her actions in government speak louder than her false promises.
